

The Council On Botanical And Horticultural Libraries

Nursery and Seed Catalogs:

A directory of collections

Revised edition

The Council on Botanical and Horticultural Libraries
The New York Botanical Garden, Bronx, New York 10458

1990

DEDICATION

To the National Agricultural Library for its enthusiastic endeavors in furthering the CBHL cause on behalf of nursery and seed trade catalogs.

The foremost collection of historical nursery and seed trade catalogs is at the National Agricultural Library (NAL). The collection comprises approximately 175,000 individual catalogs from U. S. and foreign nurseries and seed purveyors, and dates from the 1700's to the present.

As an institutional member of CBHL, the NAL has cooperated in the survey which produced this directory. The Library is presently engaged in several other projects that will make the nursery and seed catalogs in its collection more easily accessible both to librarians and to researchers. These include putting the records of its holdings into machine-readable form in order to enter them in the computerized nationally shared-cataloging OCLC system. NAL has also accepted responsibility for maintaining as complete an archive as possible of these otherwise ephemeral materials. Questions regarding use of the NAL collection or about donations of additional catalogs to it should be addressed to:

Nursery and Seed Catalog Collection
National Agricultural Library, Room 111
Beltsville, Maryland 20705

The National Agricultural Library has created a database of pre-1870 American seed trade catalogs, indexed by author, title and key words. Data elements include proprietor's name, catalog title, year covered, publisher, place and date of publication and institutions that have reported to NAL that they have a copy. In a joint venture between the NAL, Chadwyck-Healey Inc. and Meckler Publications, all the catalogs recorded in the pre-1870 American seed trade catalogs database have been filmed on microfiche by Chadwyck-Healey Inc. A hard copy index of this microfiche will be available. [Ed. note, 1989]

PREFACE

In 1978 members of the Council on Botanical and Horticultural Libraries (CBHL) began a search to locate individuals, institutions, and businesses in the United States and Canada which had collections of nursery and seed catalogs.

Originally, twenty-three members of CBHL volunteered to conduct surveys in their areas using the standard questionnaire prepared by the CBHL nursery and seed catalog committee. The survey was finally completed in 1984 by volunteers at the Anderson Horticultural Library in Minnesota. Over 5,000 questionnaires were sent to public libraries, special libraries, historical societies and museums, nurserymen, plant societies, and private individuals. Of the 1850 questionnaires which were returned, 478 reported having collections. The directory is a compilation of those reports.

The directory is arranged in alphabetical groupings by state (U.S.) or by province (Canada). Each entry within these groupings gives information on where the collection is located, the time period covered by catalogs in the collection, and the approximate number of catalogs in each collection. An index to names of individuals, institutions, and businesses having seed catalog collections is included.

We thank members of CBHL, volunteers at the Andersen Horticultural Library, and all those persons who returned questionnaires for making the directory possible. A very special thanks goes to Ruth Atwood and Amy Owen for their part in setting up the computer program.

CBHL Nursery & Seed Catalog Committee, 1985

The preliminary edition of this directory was released in 1985; the present revision incorporates additions and corrections received between 1985 and 1988. Many libraries have continued to collect seed catalogs beyond 1920, the limiting date of the original questionnaire, and should be consulted as to possible more current holdings. [Ed. note, 1989]
